Forming an Expert Group

- How to choose experts
- Expert submits nomination form
- Spec Lead “votes” on nomination
- PMO “votes” on nomination

A note on choosing experts

- Choose experts based on whether you want them on the Expert Group
- Expert Group should reflect a good cross-section of the industry: multiple stakeholders and multiple perspectives
- Expert Group should be more than a couple of experts

EG Nominations

The screenshot shows the Java Community Process (JCP) website in a Mozilla Firefox browser window. The address bar displays the URL <http://jcp.org/en/jsr/detail?id=325>. The page features a navigation menu on the left with links like "What's New", "JSRs: Java Specification Requests", "JCP Procedures", "Community Resources", "Participation", "Press & Success", and "Introduction". The main content area is titled "The Java Community Process(SM) Program - JSRs: Java Specification Requests - detail JSR# 325 - Mozilla Firefox". It includes a "List of all JSRs" link, a "Join now!" button, and a "Spec Lead Guide" link. A prominent blue box contains the text "JCP Program Survey" and "Please Click here to take the JCP program Survey. Tell us what you think!". Below this, the page details "JSR 325: IMS Communication Enablers (ICE)", stating it will define a high-level IMS Communications Enabler framework API. A table provides the status and timeline:

Status: In Progress	Start	Finish
Stage JSR Review Ballot	22 Apr, 2008	05 May, 2008

The page also lists the "Specification Lead" (Martin Johansson, Ericsson AB; Niclas Palm, Ericsson AB) and the "Expert Group" (Ericsson AB). Links for "I would like to join this Expert Group", "Expert Group Private Page", and "JSR Community Update Page" are provided. The bottom of the page features a search bar and a footer with the text "Original Java Specification Request (JSR)".

The screenshot shows a web browser window titled "The Java Community Process(SM) Program - JSRs: Java Specification Requests - Expert Group Nomination JSR# 325 - Mozilla Firefox". The address bar shows the URL "http://jcp.org/en/jsr/egnom?id=325". The browser's menu bar includes File, Edit, View, History, Bookmarks, Tools, and Help. Below the menu bar is a toolbar with icons for back, forward, home, and search, along with a search engine dropdown set to Google. A navigation bar contains links: EC Resources, INFO, Participants, JSRs, Procedures, SunWeb, JCP PMO Procedures, Add to Fanpop, and Bugzilla. A note states: "Fields marked with a * are required. All required fields must be completed before the form can be accepted."

The form is titled "Expert Nomination for JSR 325" with a subtext "(insert JSR number here)". Below this is a "Privacy Statement" section. To the left of the privacy statement is a "Go to JSR:" link and a "Print Format" link. The privacy statement text reads: "Sun Microsystems, Inc. ("Sun") respects your rights of privacy. Information that you disclose to Sun in this Nomination Form is intended to be used in selecting Experts and determining Community support for the JSR specified above. By providing this information to Sun, you give your permission: (i) for Sun to share the information with the Specification Lead, whether or not he or she is employed by Sun, but only to assist the PMO and the Specification Lead in identifying, evaluating and selecting candidates to serve on the Expert Group and in communicating with them following their selection; and (ii) for the PMO and the Specification Lead to share the information with members of the Expert Group should the person nominated here be selected as a member of the Expert Group. In addition to the foregoing, you give your permission (to the extent you have the right to do so) for the PMO and the Specification Lead to share the nominee's company name (if participating as a Member) or the nominee's name (if participating via an IEPA) with the JCP Executive Committee, but only for the purpose of assisting them in gauging the extent of Java Community support for this JSR."

EG Operation

- Decide on a working style early in the process
- Make it explicit
- How will you meet? How often will you meet?
- How will you collaborate? Will you divide tasks among different experts, or will everyone contribute to everything?
- Will there be voting? If so, how will you conduct votes? What constitutes a 'passing' vote?
